UNTIL DEATH.

[NEW ORLEANS TIMES-DEMOCRAT.]

Make me no vows of constancy, my friend, To love me though I die, the whole life long,
And love no other till their days shall end—Nay, it were rash and wrong.
It would not make me sleep more peacefully
That thou wert wasting all thy life in woe
For my poor sake. What love thou hast for me Bestow it ere I go.
Carve not upon a stone when I am dead
The praises which remorseful mourners give To women's graves—a fairly recompense—
But speak them while I live.
Heap not the heavy marble on my head To shut away the sunshine and the dew;
Let small blooms grow there, and let grasses wave,
And raindrops filter through.
Thou wilt meet many fairer and more gay
Than I, but, trust me, thou canst never find
One who will love and serve thee night and day
With a more single mind.
Forget me when I die! The violets Above my rest will blossom just as blue Nor miss thy tears—e'er Nature's self forgets—
But while I live be true!

WASHINGTON.

Affairs at the Nation's Capital Crisply Written up—Gresham and Carlisle Dismissed.

Will Secretaries Gresham and Carlisle retire from the cabinet? If that question has been asked once it has been asked ten thousand times, and the reason is not difficult to locate, although to tell the truth no one expected family jars in the administration before the time allotted for the honeymoon had fairly expired. These two Secretaries are the only men of proved strength and individuality in the cabinet, and the prediction was freely made, by Democrats as well as by Republicans, when they first accepted their present positions that it was only a question of time when they would revolt. Well, they have not exactly revolted, but they have reached that stage of mind which is next door to an open revolt, they regret having joined the Cabinet and any day one or both of them may tender their resignations, unless they are treated a little more like advisers, instead of clerks, by Mr. Cleveland, and that isn't at all probable.
It is well known that if these two men could have back the positions they gave up to enter the Cabinet that they would be very lively in getting out of a very unpleasant situation. Indeed, Mrs. Carlisle has not hesitated in saying as much concerning her husband. Secretary Carlisle's pride keeps his mouth shut; he entered the Cabinet against the wishes and protests of his strongest and closest friends, and, as his wife says, is trying to grin and bear it.
Secretary Gresham's temper, which often gets the best of him, is responsible for the condition of his mind having become known to some of his friends, even the best of them will talk, you know.

Those who thought, or at least pretended to think that the names of Lincoln and Grant would cause the present administration to allow the Hon. Robert T. Lincoln to continue to be U. S. Minister to Great Britain and Col. Fred T. Grant as Minister to Austria now know better. Ex-Secretary Bayard, who stands and has always stood for everything that was opposed to what Lincoln and Grant stood for, succeeds the first and becomes the first American Ambassador, and Judge Bartlett Tibbs, of South Dakota, who first demanded the position of Land Commissioner as a reward for the part he took in sending Senator Roach to the U. S. Senate from North Dakota, the latter. So much for Democratic veneration for the names of Lincoln and Grant.

The fact that Senator Gorman has not called at the White House since the present occupant was inaugurated has been the cause of no end of gossip. According to Mr. Gorman's friends he has not called because he has not been asked to do so, and will not until he receives an invitation.
Some of Mr. Cleveland's talking friends say that he has not forgiven the Maryland Senator for his hesitation at the Chicago convention, and that he intends to punish him by ignoring him. By and by this may breed trouble, if it isn't fixed up some way. Gorman has been credited with securing more appointments in the Government Printing office than any other Democratic Senator, and it was to make sure prestige in that office would be maintained that he had himself made chairman of the Committee on Printing. Now, if Mr.
Cleveland's Public Printer attempts the ignoring process there will be trouble right away, and it will be serious trouble too, see if it isn't.
It is now stated that the administration is to have a financial bill as well as a tariff bill, and that Mr. J. Eckels, of Ottawa, Ill., who was this week nominated for Comptroller of the Currency, is the man who is to prepare it. Mr. Eckels, who is here, admits that he knows nothing about finance, having given all his time to the practice of law, and members of the Senate committee on Finance, to which his nomination was referred, do not like the idea of a man without financial experience being put into such an important position, although they may make a favorable report, because of the otherwise good reputation of Mr. Eckels.

Gen. Harrison appears to have known better than some of his critics did what he was doing when he made of the U. S. Supreme Court. This week Justice Jackson handed down an opinion in a decision that gave the States Rights Doctrine as hard a single blow as it ever received. The decision was that State Courts may try a prisoner brought by a requisition from another state on charges other than those set forth in the requisition papers; that states do not stand to wade each other as independent foreign nations do, their sovereignty being limited by the Federal Constitution.

Deafness Cannot be Cured by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portions of the ear.
There is only one way to cure Deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian tube. When this tube becomes inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the deafness can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.
We will give one hundred dollars for any case of deafness, caused by catarrh, that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

Chicago Theatres.

The managers of the Chicago theatres intend to provide plenty of attractions for the hordes of visitors that will pour into the city for the next six months to view the wonders of earth at Jackson Park.

The unfortunate experience of the Philadelphia and Paris managers during the terms of the World's Fairs in those cities seem to have had a stimulating rather than a deterring effect on the men who guide the fortunes of Chicago's houses, and there is unshakable confidence that the approaching season will be phenomenal.

Every class of amusement, from the cheap and noisy exhibit of the dime museum to the dazzling splendor of the spectacle, will find its patrons in the cosmopolitan throng that is coming to the World's Fair city.

McVicker, the "dean" of the managerial corps, will divide the season between the "Black Crook" and the "Old Homestead." Dave Henderson has arranged to revive his burlesques from the "Arabian Nights" down to "Ah Baba."

Lillian Russell and troupe are to sing in light opera at Hayman & Davis' Columbia. Uncle Dick Hooley will stick faithfully to legitimate comedy and drama. There will be an abundance of farce comedy at the "Grand," and the manager of the "Schiller" has the latest "adaptations" by Mr. Frohman.

Abbey Shoeffel Grau, the renown triumvirate of Grand Opera impres-sarios, are preparing to put a spectacle on the stage of the Auditorium that will attract and astonish theatregoers from one end of the country to the other. Only a few details are yet known about the piece, but these are sufficient to stamp as the most colossal, unique and magnificent work of the kind known to the modern stage.

Plans for construction were laid a year and a half ago under the guidance of Irme K. Ruffy, whose successful management of spectacular productions has gained him international fame.

It comprises a prologue and thirty tableaux, bear the title "America," and has for its subject the rise and progress of this country from the time of Columbus landing down to the present day.

This histo-ic theme will be illustrated by scenery, music, ballet dancing and mimic action.

Dialogues will be used to some extent, but they will be subordinate to the other features. The scenes, which are described as enchantingly beautiful, were painted in Paris by the corps of famous artists connected with the Grand Opera House.

Antonio Venzana, a celebrated Italian composer, wrote the entire musical score, and is at present in Chicago directing the preliminary rehearsals of this particular department.

The costumes, exquisite in design and texture, were made in London, Paris and New York, and cost a fortune alone; cost, in fact, does not seem to have been a consideration in the creation of this gigantic scheme.

One hundred and twenty thousand dollars will have been the outlay before the curtain rises on the opening night, and heaven only knows what the expenses will be thereafter. Seven hundred persons have already signed contracts to appear in this piece. The ballet, numbering two hundred, is to be a vision of loveliness—a ballet worthy of the name—fresh from Vienna, Milan and Paris, where the delighful thing was born, and where it now exists in its prime. Luigia Corale, of the Hof Theatre, Vienna, will be the premiere dancer. Others of no less celebrity, from the other side of the Atlantic, will assist her. The "Coryphees," who arrived with the chorus from Europe the other day, are a lot of beauties, representing nearly every nation in Europe, principally Italy and France. The principal dramatic and vocal parts will be assumed by Louise Beaudet, Lottie Gillman, Miss Russell, Miss Malcolm, Her Barnemann and Signors Brighenti, Octavi, Biagrelli and Campana.

The first performance is announced for April 17, and the season will continue for six months following that date.

A Mail Agent's Experience.
Louis D. Brennecke, Walhalla, S. C., had Rheumatism for fifteen years and during that time had never been free from pain. He tried the Hot Springs taking two bottles of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills he was free from pain, and able to take several long walks. Your druggists should keep this remedy. If he has not got it, write to the Dr. Williams' Pink Pills Company, 48-50 Maiden Lane, New York, and they will supply [Laying a Race-track.

[EXCHANGE].

The question is often asked, "What are the rules for laying out mile and half-mile tracks?" The following simple directions may be found useful: For a mile track draw a line through an oblong center 440 yards in length, setting a stake at each end. Then draw a line on either side of the first line, exactly parallel with, and 417 feet two inches from it, setting stakes at either end of them. You will then have an oblong square 440 yards long and 834 inches wide. At each end of these lines you will now set stakes. Now fasten a chord or wire 417 feet two inches long to the center stake of your parallelo-gram, and then describe a half-circle, driving stakes as often as you wish to set a fence post. When the circle is made at both ends of your parallelo-gram you will have two straight sides and two circles which, measured three feet from the fence, will be exactly one mile. The turns should be thrown up an inch to the foot.
A half mile track: Draw two parallel lines 600 feet long and 432 feet five inches apart. Half-way between the extreme ends of the two parallel lines drive a stake, then loop a wire around the stake, long enough to reach to either side. Then mark a true curve with the wire as often as a fence-post is needed. When this operation is finished, at both ends of the 600-foot parallel lines the track is laid out. The inside fence will rest exactly on the line drawn, but the track must measure a half-mile three feet from the fence. The turns should be thrown up an inch to the foot. The stretches may be anywhere from forty-five to sixty feet.

A Glittering Spectacle.
"The most glittering spectacle that I ever witnessed," says a traveller, "occurred in Zanzibar while I tarried with Company E of the Holstein Guards, who, with a number of other companies, were stationed there by the Government. I was not in the German army, but I accompanied them on friendly terms, sketching for myself. Zanzibar furnishes some of the finest specimens of tropical foliage and plant life that one can imagine. The willow tree of that country is really beautiful. One afternoon while out sketching, I was caught in a true African thunderstorm. Lots of thunder and lightning but little rain. The rainfall was sufficient, however, to cover a neighboring willow with myriads of drops, which, when a little later the sun shone out, reflected its rays in ever-changing colors. But before this the tree was struck by lightning. Not enough to destroy it, but sufficient current to spread from limb to limb and leaf to leaf, entering into every crystal drop that swayed with the wind tossed leaves.

"The effect was marvelous. The rich green of the leaves set off the gorgeous gems that glittered and sparkled richer than any diamond set in gold. It was for an instant, but that instant was sufficient to give one an idea what an Eden or a Hesperides might look like. When such things occur in the land of the sun, do you wonder that the Arabian literature abounds in rich, fancy and gorgeous descriptions?"

The heavy rains and sunshine have revived the farmers and all seem ready to make a dollar as well as save one. This week we offer special inducements to the wide-awake go-ahead man or woman that has something to sell as well as something to buy. Every assertion we make must be backed with solid truths, and we feel that if you will allow us we will be your friend in saving you money.

Touch a man's pocket-book and you get close to him. Drop a dollar in the same and he thanks you. Save one yourself and thank us for it. Come and see our inducements.

A hint to the wise is sufficient. Quick Sales, Small Profits, Cash System, No Risks, Even Exchange of Dollars or Equals is all we ask. So get in your wagons and bring Meat, Lard, Chickens, Eggs, Butter, Wool, Hay, Corn, Hay, Etc., and come to see us. Will pay highest market prices.

Every wagon warranted by the company. Come and see them. None better.

Hartford Republican

FRIDAY, APRIL 14, 1893.

PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY MORNING.

J. B. ROGERS, Editor and Proprietor.

At Owensboro last Friday afternoon four warehouses and 19,000 barrels of whisky were destroyed by fire. R. Monarch was the heaviest loser.

A band of twenty convicts to work on the roads of Ohio county through about eight or nine months of the year would make a vast improvement in the condition of our highways.

THE Democracy is always boasting of its love for the fairer sex as post-masters and used to severely criticize the Republicans both for refusing to appoint them or for removing them. But the outcome of the fight at Sulphur Springs doesn't sustain their chivalry. Mr. Kirby receives the appointment instead of the lady applicant, Mrs. Morton.

THE convict question is one which for years has been a vexing question in many States of the Union, and especially in the South and Kentucky. It has been practically demonstrated by the past experience of our own State and the recent experience of our sister State of Tennessee that the people will not submit to competition with convict labor. But there is an employment sufficient for the working of all our convicts, and that is the placing them at work upon the public highways. If the convict labor is not sufficient to keep the roads in condition then we are in favor of finishing up the job by taxation. Away with the present system. It is a miserable failure.

MISCELLANEOUS.

April 10.—Mrs. Ed Davidson was called to Caneyville Tuesday to see her brother, Mr. Anderson Blaine, who is very sick.

Miss Ada Porter, of Hartford, came up Sunday and will begin school here to-day. We wish her success and a pleasant time.

Miss Lilly Carden, Trisler, spent Saturday and Sunday with Miss Lelia Murphy.

Will Murphy left Sunday for Illinois.

Mrs. Wm. Tunstall attended the burial of her grandmother, Mrs. Letitia Robertson, Monday.

Miss Mary Keene, of Penn. is visiting her mother. VANESSA.

Prof. I. S. Mason's school at Pleasant Ridge gave a very creditable entertainment Friday night, last.

That E. Tracy is growing enormously fat and distressingly lazy?

That Sam Casebier hasn't been to Central City for more than a week?

That Col. W. H. Moore and Dr. J. E. Pendleton went fishing last week?

That Charley Hamilton has a position in the Company Store at Powderly?

That Bat Nall isn't exactly decided in his opinion as to who it was that said he looked like a Chinaman?

That the students who expect to take part in the oratorical contest in June are very busy with their pieces?

That a College girl not long ago was heard to say that of all the trees she ever saw she liked A. Crabtree best?

That R. E. Lee Simmerman wonders why this column hasn't said anything about his interest in the Water Mill lately?

That the largest crowd in town since the political speakings last summer will hear Henry Watterson at the Court House May 13th?

That an unusually large quid of tobacco found on the pavement Monday gave rise to a discussion as to whether Capt. Sam E. Hill was in town?

That Hartford's members of the fair sex greeted Easter with a display of millinery and dress-makers' embellishments quite impressive so far as the lookers-on were concerned, but quite depressive as concerned the old gentleman's pocket-book?

REDA.

April 10.—Please allow me space in your valuable paper for a few lines on the whisky question. Some say:

"If whisky was voted back in Hartford it would bring 'life' to the old town." I think the gentlemen are mistaken about that, but instead it would bring idleness and drunkenness, and make the town an unfit place for either ladies or gentlemen.

Besides that, just think of the young minds it brings to ruin. The people ought to have a higher ambition than to allow saloons in their midst.

Some say: "We had just as well have seven blind tigers."

Tuesday.

The truth is we ought to have neither, but if we vote whisky down we will have a chance to break up the Blind Tigers. So let us, in the name of God, work and pray for the voting down of the open saloon and the breaking up of the Blind Tigers, and make Hartford a fitter place for Young America. C. M. HICKS.

In Memory of C. S. McLean.

Never did an accident happen in the little town of Hartford that caused more universal sorrow than the drowning of Mr. C. S. McLean, Sunday afternoon, March 26, 1893. Although a comparative stranger in our community, by his winsome manners, bright and happy disposition, and religious virtues, he had won the love and confidence of his associates, teachers and class-mates. He was indeed held as a model young man by all who knew him. He had been a companion of ours for several months, and it was with deep sorrow and regret that we gave him up to the One who claimed him as a jewel.

We realize that our loss is Heaven's gain and we submit to Him "who doeth all things well." No more a mother's hand shall smooth his fevered brow or a sister speak sweet words of encouragement to him. But may they ever be as faithful as he, and meet their loved one in the land beyond the stars. We deeply feel the loss we have sustained but know that Heaven has been enriched, and He who took him from us did it for the best and will comfort the sorrowing hearts.

Though he be one cruelly torn from the bonds of this sinful world, the light of his noble example of honesty and uprightness will continue to shine, making our pathway seem brighter as we strive from day to day, hoping that we, too, shall leave behind us such a light.

We shall hear no more his pleasant voice, but we know that it is heard in the beautiful beyond, where he joins the angels in singing praises that never cease one time, is in God's hand, and well it is so for he will take care of those who are his shall die in the best time. However, their death may seem to us untimely it will not be found unseasonable. His death has cast a gloom over his home and friends. He is dead but the memory of him shall live forever in the hearts of the people of Hartford.

We, the members of the R. E. C. Society, do deeply sympathize with those bound to him by kindred ties, and earnestly pray that they may be comforted.

The first train over the Fordsville and Horse Branch Railroad was run Tuesday.

The talk of the town. It's been a great problem with Dr. Fenner—not to bring his Golden Relief to cure ailments having so many different names, but to so represent it as that it really is a specific in one disease, viz: Inflammation. But that disease has so many forms and names. Thus: By its external application it cures any toothache in one minute. Any neuralgia or rheumatic pain in one to eight minutes. Any headache in 2 to 5 minutes. Any backache in 5 minutes. Cuts, sores on lips, one application. One drop cures an indolent ulcer. Any cut, bruise, burn or rheumatism it cures at once and without soreness or mattering. Can work with comfort while the wound is raw. By its internal use, colic, or pain in stomach, 5 minutes. Dyspepsia, relief at once. Radical cure follows. Diarrhea, dysentery or flux, cures at once. Sore throat, bronchitis and consumption, when used in time, cure follows as surely as day follows the night.

People are beginning to understand and to talk about it. It searches out and cures inflammation wherever it exists. No inflammation, no sore throat. No inflammation, no consumption. No inflammation, no swelling, no pain, no toothache. Not so complicated after all. Contains no narcotics or mineral poisons. Safe and certain. One tablespoonful cures La Grippe. It never disappoints. Money refunded if satisfaction not given. Take home a bottle today.

Notice.
Those persons owing Dr. L. T. Cox will please call on me and settle the same, thereby saving cost.

Pursuant to an order of the Ohio County Court, there will be opened a poll in both the voting precincts in Hartford, Ky., on the second day of May, 1893, between the hours of 7 a. m. and 4 p. m., to take the sense of the legal voters in said town on the question whether or not the local law now in force prohibiting the sale of spirituous, vinous and malt liquors in said town, shall be inoperative therein. This March 13, 1893.

A few weeks ago the tip and all the buildings at the mines at Deanefield were destroyed by fire, as was noted in the REPUBLICAN at that time. Under the efficient management of D. Two weeks ago the Town Trustees asked Town Marshal, W. P. Thomas, to resign, which he did and in settlement with the Board Monday came out $136.09 short. In settlement with the Board of School Trustees he was short $274, or a total of $410.09. This is very greatly to be regretted, and especially so by his bondsmen who will have to make the amount good.

We understand there is a town ordinance against the use of all weapons that throw missiles. Notwithstanding this it has not been long since about half the boys and some of the men in town were using catapults on the streets and now it is common to hear the report of a flobert rifle and to hear the bullet whiz through the air. If the laws are enforced in a case or two this thing would stop and if it does not stop some one will be accidentally shot. Better use the rifle some where else than on the street.

Judge R. R. Wedding, of Rosine, has been connected with the school interests of the county for a number of years. He has taught nineteen years consecutively, within a radius of about seven miles with old Salem Church about the central point. He proposes to have a reunion of his old students sometime in May or June, either at Salem or Mt. Vernon, at which he expects to have all his old students and patrons. Dinner will be served on the ground, good speakers will be present and a pleasant day is anticipated.

Preaching.
Rev. J. W. Gant, of the Christian Church, will arrive in Hartford the 20th inst. and deliver a series of sermons, including the 4th Sunday, morning and night. The members of the C. P. Church have kindly tendered their house, at which place the services will be held. On Saturday night before the fourth Sunday, Rev. Gant desires to meet all the members of the Christian Church in the town and county, to discuss and perfect plans for advancement of the Church in this community.

Extracts from Town Tattler.

But just isn't Mr. F. M. Westerfield getting to be a great joker. Not long ago he perpetrated the hound pup joke on our jolly jailor and now he's having fellows feed fertilizer for ship stuff. Frank, is this natural with you or is it acquired after long years of practice?

Recently, that whole-souled fellow, Evans Cornelius, who works at Field's Livery Stable, was in the Feed Store of J. W. Ford & Co., and noticing a barrel containing some peculiar looking composition asked what it was. Mr. F. M. Westerfield, who was present, very graciously informed him it was a new kind of ship stuff, made of corn and oats. Evans is always thinking of the welfare of the horses of the stable and remarked that he believed he would take a double-handful over to the stable and try it, and so he did. He poured the new found treasure into the trough of a favorite horse but the equine was seized with fright or some inexplicable desire to get away from the trough, and was soon pulling back by the halter with all his might. Go near that trough? Not he. At last Evans awoke to the fact that he had been made the victim of a joke, and that instead of the composition being feed as represented by Mr. Westerfield, it was fertilizer of the rankest odor. If you wish to be on friendly terms with all men don't mention fertilizer to Evans Cornelius.
